On Account of Absence of Frank G. Warden and Illness of Counsel

IS NOW SET FOR SEPT. 4TH

EX-BANK CASHIER INDICTED ON THE CHARGE OF FORGERY

Growing Out of the Collapse of Savings Bank and the Building Association.

The case of Ohio vs. James F. Lingafelter, who is charged with forging the name of James Carmichael to a receipt for $400, while he (Lingafelter) was secretary of the defunct Homestead Building association, was called in Common Pleas court Monday morning.

This case is a different one from that tried in Mt. Vernon a year ago last February before Judge George Coyner, in which Mr. Lingafelter was convicted of forgery the name of Harvey and Blanche Crawford, and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

This Mt. Vernon case was taken to the Circuit court on error proceedings and that tribunal found error in the record and remanded the case for another trial, which of course will be held in Mt. Vernon. There are other indictments pending against Lingafelter than the one in suit.

Some time ago Mr. Lingafelter dis-qualified both Judges C. W. Seward and George Coyner, of this sub-district, because of "alleged bias and prejudice against him and it became necessary to try the case before a foreign judge. Accordingly Judge Campbell of Ashland, ordered Judge S. B. Eason of Wooster, to come to Newark and preside at the trial. Judge Eason arrived in Newark Monday morning, coming here from Coshocton.

Attorney Frank V. Owen of Mt. Vernon, who is associated with Messrs. Smythe & Smythe of this city in the defense of Lingafelter, also arrived in Newark Monday morning.

Judge S. B. Eason is one of the best known Common Pleas judges in Ohio. He is noted as a capable, fair and impartial jurist, and has gained fame which is almost national, as presiding judge in Captain Taggart's case at the Peon Dickerson murder case at Coshocton.

After some delay Judge Eason was asked to grant a conference between himself and the attorneys in the case and they retired to the judge's room the door being locked by Bailiff Legge. The conference lasted probably half an hour. Soon after it began, Attorney J. A. Flory was called into the room.

Coming into the court room, Judge Eason took his place on the bench. Attorney Phil B. Smythe arose and after moving continuance of the case and in support of the motion read an affidavit signed by the defendant in which he averred the absence of Captain Frank G. Warden, a material witness, without whose presence and testimony he could not proceed to trial, that Captain Warden was now in Europe and diligent effort had been made to get his evidence, and that it could probably be secured by the next term of court.

At this juncture Attorney J. A. Flory addressed the court and said: "Your honor, I represent members of the Licking county bar not engaged in this case. In making a request that if a continuance is granted in this case, it be until the first day of the September term, that is September 4, and that it be set for trial on that day. Our docket is two years behind now, and we other lawyers down here are starving to death waiting for the disposition of these criminal cases."

Mr. Phil B. Smythe urged as a further ground for the continuance the physical condition of his father, Mr. B. G. Smythe, of defendant's counsel, who is ill at his home, adding: "And Mr. Owen and myself are not feeling any too well."

"Has the prosecutor any objection to the granting of this continuance?" asked Judge Eason.

"We have no objections if it is granted in accordance with the suggestion just made that it be set down for trial on September 4."

Attorney Owen then said:

"We will be ready for trial on that date unless sickness or death intervenes, and we do not expect to ask for any further continuance."

Under these circumstances Judge Eason granted a general continuance until September 4, and made the order on the journal.

The court also ordered the men who had been summoned as jurors to report on the date set, and further cautioned them to have no conversation with any one concerning the case nor to form nor express any opinion.

A further injunction was that they should not read any newspaper accounts or comments on the case.

The regular panel of 18 was added to by 12 more names, so that there will be 30 men from whom a jury will be selected to try the case on September 4.

NEWARK MAY GET GOVERNMENT BLDG. COSTING $90,000

Bill is Expected to Go Through House and Senate

Some of the amounts named below are for repairs and additions to present buildings, but others are for entirely new buildings as in the case of Newark. The buildings authorized in the State of Ohio, with the amounts attaching to same, are as given below:

Columbus, $400,000; Toledo, $510,000; Hamilton, $100,000; Youngstown, $100,000; Marietta, $100,000; Newark, $90,000; Warren, $30,000; Springfield, $30,000; Lancaster, $75,000; Greenville, $35,000; Marion, $75,000; Delaware, $10,000, and Ashtabula, $15,000.

BILL EXPECTED TO PASS ON TUESDAY

(By Corry M. Stadden.)

Washington, June 25.—Newark will have a federal building to accommodate the postoffice. The omnibus House building bill will be reported from the committee late this afternoon carrying $90,000 for Newark. It will go through the House tomorrow by special rule and probably the Senate will act on it before tomorrow night, as nearly every senator has an interest in the bill. The amount asked for Newark was $110,000, and the treasury estimated the cost of the proposed building at $35,000. Wooster falls to get a building, but Lancaster gets $75,000, Youngstown $100,000, Delaware $10,000, and Columbus $100,000.

FOREIGN COMMERCE

Washington, June 25.—An analysis of the foreign commerce of the United States, contained in a bulletin issued by the department of commerce and labor, says that in the fiscal year 1905 43 per cent of the imports into the United States was drawn from Europe, 20 per cent from North America, 13 per cent from South America, 14 per cent from Asia, 2 per cent from Oceania and 1 per cent from Africa. Of the exports from the United States in the same year 67 per cent went to Europe, 17 per cent to North America, 4 per cent to South America, 8 per cent to Asia, 2 per cent to Oceania and 1 per cent to Africa. A comparison with the figures of earlier years shows a gradual decline in the share of our imports supplied by Europe and in the share which Europe takes of our products.

Shot Two Men.

Davenport, Ia., June 25.—John Esberg and Paul Ross were shot by "Cappy" Hoffman, who escaped. Esberg was shot through the heart, dying instantly. Ross was shot in the stomach and will probably die. The affray followed a quarrel.

But State Believes Girl Was Murdered
—South Dakota Case Tried in November.

Sioux Falls, S. D., June 25.—The trial of Mrs. Emma Kaufmann, wife of Moses Kaufmann, a millionaire brewer of this city on the charge of having murdered Miss Agnes Poirais, her 16-year-old domestic, will without doubt be the most noted criminal case in the history of South Dakota. It will take place here next November. Mrs. Kaufmann's son Charles, who has been attending school at Denison University, Granville, has arrived from Ohio.

Mrs. Kaufmann may not have been responsible for the death of the girl—only the future will decide that—but that the girl was the victim of foul play is firmly believed. After the girl died in a hospital on June 1, her remains were prepared for burial and shipped to the parents of the girl, who reside on a farm near Parkston.

After the funeral it was learned that a wound had been discovered on the girl's head, and the authorities ordered the remains disinterred. Other wounds were then discovered.

June 9 State's Attorney Quinn and Drs. Olney and Billon of Sioux Falls, superintendent of a second disinterment and examination. The announcement of the result of this inquiry caused excitement.

Although the Poirais family came to America from Austria-Hungary only about seven months ago, and few people in Parkston were acquainted with the daughter, Agnes, yet the indignation which was felt there as the result of the belief that the girl was the victim of foul play never has been equaled in its intensity by any crime committed within the borders of South Dakota.

The girl came to Sioux Falls Feb. 18 last, only a few weeks after the family arrived at Parkston from the old country. She was robust and weighed 138 pounds. She was the youngest of fourteen children. It is a curious coincidence that an elder sister was murdered by a rejected suitor while the family yet lived in the old country.

The father was present at the preliminary hearing of Mrs. Kaufmann and testified in German, but the mother, although she was in Sioux Falls was unable to be present in the courtroom, being prostrated with grief.

It is the general belief that the defense, when the case comes on for trial will seek to prove that the girl was affected by anemia, accompanied by vertigo. The anemia is alleged to have developed into diabetes and gangrene. It is expected the defense also will allege the blood clot found on the girl's brain showed an abnormal state, preventing her having control over herself, so far at least as the use of her lower limbs was concerned, and that because of this she was the victim of frequent falls. The gashes, bruises and wounds found upon her head, body and limbs, it is believed, will be ascribed to these falls.

It is thought the unjointing of one of the fingers of her left hand and the protruding of the bone will be attributed to injuries during one of these falls.

The wounds upon the girl were thus described by the physicians who made the post-mortem examination: There were three lacerations of the scalp, to the membrane of the bone, and three others on the back of the head. The wounds were ragged and apparently made by some blunt instrument, but of what character has not been determined. They seemed rather fresh ones at the time of death.

The skin on the left hand was lacerated and one finger was gone with the bone protruding. The left knee was red and greatly swollen and a great portion of the skin was separated from part of the leg and feet. The flesh below showed no particular injury. There were blisters on the legs, such as would be produced by acid or a burn, or a blistering plaster.

The theory of the prosecution is that the girl was deliberately beaten to death by Mrs. Kaufmann, and that on at least one occasion she threw boiling water on the girl after she had fallen to the floor, the water being used, as Mrs. Kaufmann explained, "to get her up."

The prosecution also has testimony to the effect that on a number of occasions the girl was seen on her knees before Mrs. Kaufmann with her hands upraised in an appealing manner, as though pleading for mercy.

Friends believe Mr. and Mrs. Kaufmann will be unable to stand the strain resulting from the serious charge made against Mrs. Kaufmann, and that the latter especially will never live to be tried. They have resided in Sioux Falls for about a quarter of a century. Mr. Kaufmann has for years been prominently identified with state politics, and is generally known throughout South Dakota and adjoining states.

Mrs. Kaufmann is a gypsy, who many years ago, before her marriage, was adopted by a well-known family of Sioux Falls pioneers.

Judge Jones of the circuit court has approved the $25,000 bond upon which the state supreme court has ordered that Mrs. Kaufmann, accused of the murder of Agnes Poirais, her servant, should be released from jail.

The woman remained in custody of the sheriff until today when she was taken home.

The excited condition of the public mind has somewhat subsided, but the police guard about the residence will be maintained for the present.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP RECOMMENDED

Philadelphia, June 25.—It is said today on authority of one closely connected with the investigation of the coal carrying roads that the interstate commerce commission will advocate government ownership of the anthracite coal fields. This, it is declared, will be urged as the only means of protecting the public from extortion. The report will directly charge five railroads with violation of the anti-trust and interstate laws. It will advocate further legislation which will completely divorce the railroads from the bituminous coal industry, or any other industry along their lines.

THREE MURDERERS

Reported to Washington, Pa., Police —Miner's Body is Found Horribly Mangled.

Washington, Pa., June 25.—Three murderers were reported to the Washington county authorities. The body of Michael Prebika, a coal miner, was found in a tunnel of the Wabash road in Independence township. His skull had been crushed and both legs were broken. When last seen alive Prebika had a large sum of money and was quarreling with a fellow Slav, Frank Ristiar, for whom a warrant has been issued. Later the body of Joseph Simpson, another coal miner, was found beneath a railroad car at Burgettstown. He had wounds on his head and chest, apparently inflicted with a pick. His pockets had been rifled. The body of a man still unidentified was found in the road near the Baltimore & Ohio tracks at Gilkron, 10 miles above this place. The only indication of the cause of death was a bruise on the temple.

FRENZIED LOVER

Kills Girl in the East and When He is Cornered Man Takes His Own Life.

Amity, N. J., June 25.—Freeman Longcore sought to persuade Rose Coffey to go away with him. She refused, and he is said to have made threats. Later he set fire to the house in which she lived. The girl was trying to save some of her effects when Longcore killed her. He then fled and, being cornered, killed himself.

BOOTH TUCKER IS MARRIED MONDAY

London, June 25.—Commissioner Booth Tucker, late commander of the Salvation Army in America, and now army secretary for the United States, and Colonel Mary Tucker, his wife, were married here today.

The first play bill was issued from Drury Lane theater, London, on April 8, 1662.

AGED WOMAN IN NEW YORK CITY'S MOST MYSTERIOUS MURDER.

Mrs. Louise M. Stenton.

New York, June 25.—Aged Mrs. Louise Stenton and her counsel, Burton Gibson, will be brought face to face today and subjected to counter-examination by Coroner McDonald and Acting Captain Price. The authorities admit that if this case falls to force the admission they are looking for, the attempt to solve the mystery of Mrs. Stenton's murder will be in the air. The one point made by the police during the seven-hour inquisition of Mrs. Stenton on Saturday was a forced admission that she knew the man Mrs. Kinnan expected on the night of the murder. Many points regarding the settlement of the woman's estate also will be gone into with her in the presence of her attorney and Mr. Gibson has been asked to bring all the papers he has bearing on the business affairs of Mrs. Stenton and Mrs. Kinnan with him. Although it has been given out that Mrs. Kinnan was unconscious from the time she spoke to the surgeon, it is known on good authority that while in the ambulance on the way to the Fordham hospital she recovered consciousness and spoke to the surgeon. It is on what she said that the police have based their theory on which they have been working since the crime was committed. From the same source they have been convinced from the outset that Mrs. Stenton could, if she wished, name the slayer of her daughter, but for purely selfish reasons she refuses to do so.

New York, June 25.—Coroner A. F. Schwannicke emphatically declares his belief that aged Mrs. Louise M. Stenton was the one who murdered her daughter, Mrs. Alice C. D. Kinnan, in their old domicile in the Bronx some days ago. The coroner also said that the aged woman was practically under arrest now in the Miller home.

When asked why he had not arrested Mrs. Stenton and placed her in custody, he replied that it was not directly his business, but that of Police Captain Price or Coroner McDonald.

While Coroner Schwannicke has not had direct charge of the case for the Bronx coroner's office he has taken an active part in it in an advisory capacity with Coroner McDonald who is investigating the mystery.

"I believe," said the coroner, "that the aged woman committed the murder. That has been my idea all along, and I see nothing to change it. Captain Price and Coroner McDonald have not agreed with my theory, but until they give me positive proof to the contrary I shall adhere to my theory, which is that the murder was committed by Mrs. Kinnan's mother. The aged woman is not a 'devil,' Coroner McDonald admits, and also that she is not an imbecile, or weak physically as he at first thought."

"So is of remarkable intellect and shrewdness. The expression of her face would not make you believe her capable of such a crime, but her eyes tell a different tale."

While the coroner did not say explicitly that it was feared that an attempt would be made to get the aged mother out of the reach of the police he refused to deny that the detective guard was put at her present abode for any other reason.

Philadelphia, June 25.—The government cases against the Standard Oil company and the Pennsylvania Railway company will probably be made here this week. Individual prosecutions will be made and A. J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania railway, is much perturbed. Five railroads and the Standard Oil will be charged with violations of the anti-trust and interstate laws.

At Hartford Conn., the late war-time house belonging to W. L. Hume & Co., containing 200 cases of dynamite belonging to P. P. Hoffman, was blown up by a bomb placed in the case.

Judge Kinkadee announced that if the ice trust would lower the price of ice below what it was before the trust raised the prices on March 12, keep the price there until the public got its money back and then put the price just where it was before the raise was made he would consider request to make some modification of the sentence.

Prosecutor Wachenheimer has won a notable victory in his fight against the combine.

AUTO OVERTURNED WITH FATAL RESULT

Los Angeles, Cal., June 25.—In the overturning of an automobile running at 60 miles an hour in Pasadena, and the subsequent explosion of the engine, Mrs. J. J. ## GOMPER'S APPEAL TO WAGE EARNERS

Washington, June 25.—President Gomper of the American Federation of Labor, publishes in the July number of the American Federationist, issued today, a stirring appeal to the wage earners of the country to defeat at the polls such candidates for reelection to Congress as have shown unfriendliness to the interests of organized labor. He says in part: "These members of Congress who have turned a deaf ear to our respectful and urgent requests for relief, will find that there is more earnestness and determination in labor's cause in their home towns than they have conception of."

"Wage earners should by all means defeat those who have been hostile or indifferent to the demands of labor. Their best efforts should be concentrated in that direction."

"Wherever possible labor should elect its own men. See to it that they are nominated and elected."

POWDER HOUSE

Forty Men Have Narrow Escape

Helena, Mont., June 25.—Thirty or forty men had a miraculous escape from being blown to atoms when the powder house at Harris' lime quarry, 10 miles from here, was exploded by some person unknown. The men were asleep in a brick house near by and fled from the powder house were blown over the house where the men slept. Against the door of the building the men occupied was found a sack containing 35 sticks of dynamite, to which a fuse had been attached.

NORWAY'S SOVEREIGN AND THE SCENE OF HIS CORONATION.

Altar of the Cathedral Where King Haakon Was Crowned.

Trondhjem, Norway, June 25.—The Norwegian American delegations were received by King Haakon and Queen Maud. The entire court was present. The pilgrims from the United States spent 25 minutes with the king and queen. Dr. Daas of Chicago first read an address congratulating King Haakon on his accession to the throne and expressing assurances of the affection of Norwegians in America for Norway. He then handed the king the address engrossed on parchment. King Haakon thanked the delegations, saying he was fully aware of the value to Norway of the moral support of Norwegians in America, and that it helped him when entering upon the duties of his office to know that he had their friendship and moral support. He also expressed his gratification for the kindly sentiment of Americans.

With a ceremonial modified from the old Norse forms to meet the modern democratic spirit of the country, King Haakon VII, and Queen Maud at noon Friday in the old Trondhjem cathedral were anointed blessed and given Norway's crowns. When, nearly 40 years ago, King Oscar of Sweden, received the crown he bared his breast and ecclesiastics crossed it with sacred oils, according to the custom of other days. King Haakon was anointed only on the forehead and wrists and the entire rite was simpler. The King and Colored Man Gets Into Trouble, But Case is Continued Until Tuesday Morning.

Fred Smith, colored, was brought into police court Monday morning charged with entering Nies' boarding house on South Fourth street without permission.

A man named Jacobs, a street car conductor, who boards at the Nies residence, stated that about 4 o'clock Sunday morning he was aroused by the negro who shook him by the shoulder with a request that he "get over" and give him room. Jacobs told him he had no business there and asked what he wanted. The reply was that he wanted to go to bed. At this point some of the other boarders were aroused and they began an investigation. They found the negro's clothes scattered along the stair steps. When the fellow found that he could not stay he started for his own home.

In police court Monday the colored fellow stated that he went to the house with a friend he had met who said he could stay with him so that they could get an early start for Buckeye Lake. He said that when he got in the bed the man that was with him got in also, but that when he was awakened by the boarders he discovered that the other man had left the bed.

The only possible explanation seems to lie in the fact that the colored man was either drunk or is a somnambulist. His case was continued until Tuesday morning.

Michael Sullivan, John Reidman, Joe Bunder, a young man who was brought in Sunday afternoon, and John Hennessey, each drew $5 and costs, "the price of a drunk." The latter, a son of Erin, who is away from the watchful care of that father, has been working for some time in Utica, but as that town is dry, was forced to come to Newark "on business" and in police court testified that

WASHINGTON NEWS

Washington, June 25.—The House today disagreed to the Senate amendments to the Lake Erie and Ohio river ship canal company measure and sent the bill to conference.

Washington, June 25. The general deficiency bill, the last of the great supply measures, was reported to House today. It carried $10,245,503, of which $3,944,357 in for the treasury department. The amount of $601,717 is for the repair of public buildings on the Pacific coast damaged by earthquake and fire. It contains a provision making lawful all emergency expenditures assumed by the war department for the relief of earthquake sufferers.

Washington, June 25.—When the House met today, it agreed upon a night session for this evening when a general debate will be in order and the long delayed "watch trust" speech of Mr. Rainey (Dem.) of Illinois, and the "stand pat" tariff speech of Mr. McCleary (Rep.) of Minnesota, will be delivered.

Washington, June 25.—The Senate today put on an extra head of steam in responding to the desire to bring about final adjournment not later than Friday. Mr. Spooner from the judiciary committee, in response to a former resolution reported that the committee had unanimously desired that "Congress be without authority under constitution to supervise marine, life and fire insurance companies except in the district of Columbia, territories and under possessions."

A long resolution calling upon the department of justice for a statement of all prosecutions under the anti-trust and anti-trust laws was agreed to without objection. It also called for a statement of the disbursement of the half million dollar fund for the prosecution of offenses under the anti-trust laws.

PENDING LEGISLATION. Washington, June 25.—Following is a schedule of important legislation pending in congress and which will probably be disposed of this week:

ADJOURNMENT LIKELY FRIDAY

Measures Extending Federal Regulation and Control the Features of the Present Session—No Marked Division on Party Lines in Effecting This Legislation—Week's Forecast.

Washington, June 25.—Measures extending federal regulation and control have been enacted at the session of congress now drawing to a close. The railroad rate and the meat inspection bills will soon become laws, and before adjournment of congress both houses will have passed pure food bills, which, though dissimilar in terms, are both based on the same principle of federal control. It is the present intention to try and adjust these differences before adjournment. There has been no marked division on party lines in effecting the above results, the differences being only as to ways and means rather than as to policy.

Besides branching off into this new field of legislative endeavor, the present session of congress has made itself important in other ways. It has added one and perhaps two new states to the Union, and by so doing has disposed of four territories. Great results to the people are expected from the removal of the tax on denatured alcohol, and if predictions are fulfilled heat, light and power are to be supplied by alcohol made from the cornfields of the country, from sugar beets and sugar cane, from fruits and other vegetables. By a deft turn of legislative points of view the questions which have perplexed congress for some time regarding the Panama canal have been settled. The president may dig a lock canal as fast as he pleases. A joint resolution was agreed to requiring canal supplies to be made of American manufacture.

Congress has not dwelt on the foreign situation to any extent. An act making a much-needed reorganization of the consular service was passed. Nothing was done in the Santo Domingo controversy and the legislation affecting our colonial possessions was meager and unimportant, although tariff revision for the Philippines received the attention and approval of the house, and an act was passed revising the tariff collected by the Philippine government. A coinage act for the islands also was passed.

Adjournment of Congress.

Washington, June 25.—Senator Hale, who in the absence of Senator Allison is acting as chairman of the senate committee on appropriations, expresses confidence in the final adjournment of congress before the close of the present week. His program will be to urge the consideration of appropriation bills and conference reports to the exclusion of practically all other matters, and with the supply bills finally passed, there is no measure, unless it be the railroad rate bill, that can hold congress together. The Maine senator is of the opinion that the work can all be concluded by Friday, but says that in no event will it go beyond Saturday.

TO COURT

Union and Nonunion Presbyterians Take Their Differences.

Corsicana, Tex., June 25.—The union and nonunion members of the Cumberland Presbyterian church have taken their differences to the court. The legislative body voted to join the Northern Presbyterian church, and an agreement was reached by the split congregation to use the church jointly at different times and with different preachers. A conflict came Saturday and the unionists went before District Judge Cobb that night and made a writ of injunction restraining the opposition from using the church until the courts can decide the ownership of the property.

Negro Shoots Conductor.

Cairo, Ill., June 25.—Hardin Davis, a negro, shot and probably fatally wounded a streetcar conductor, W. J. Kessly, and also wounded Frank Dargel, a baseball player of Paducah, Ky. Davis refused to pay his fare and the conductor put him off. The negro drew a revolver and began shooting at Kessly, who was between him and the car. Six shots were fired by the negro, four entering the body of Kessly and two the right leg of Dargel, who was a passenger. A policeman who was in the car hurried the negro into a buggy and took him to jail, followed by an angry crowd who openly threatened to lynch the negro.

Ballooner's Fall.

Peoria, Ill., June 25.—Miss Letta Aikworth, an amateur balloonist making ascensions at an amusement park to this city, fell a hundred feet from her parachute, landing on a rock pile and receiving internal injuries which are expected to prove fatal.

Policemen Killed.

Warsaw, June 25.—In the suburb of Wola a band of terrorists shot and killed two policemen and wounded another policeman and a gendarme who were sitting drinking in a restaurant. An hour later the same band shot and killed a police sergeant.

MASTADON TOOTH FOUND IN NEWARK BY A TEAMSTER

Mr. Walter Howard, a barber on Williams street, one day last week, came into possession of a rare curio in the way of a tooth of a mastadon. The tooth was discovered in a gravel pit near the car barns on North Williams street, by a teamster, who gave it to Mr. Howard. The specimen weighs one pound and five ounces and is remarkably well preserved and starts an interesting line of thought concerning the nature of the animal inhabitants of this part of the country at one time.

A pheasant has built her nest on one of the butts of a military rifle range at Ticehurst, England. She has not been hit yet, and evidently does not expect to be, the soldiers doing their best to justify her confidence.

There will be no scarcity of child-hood's favorite means to procure noise on the Fourth of July, this year. One ship which arrived in the port of New York, from China the other day, carried 200,000,000 fire-crackers and 200,000 torpedoes.

DELIGHTFUL WAS THIS MUSICAL

Misses Buckingham Entertain in Honor of Miss Patty Stair of Cleveland, O.

The Misses Buckingham entertained with a musicale on Saturday afternoon and again on Monday morning in honor of Miss Patty Stair of Cleveland. Mr. Nold, Miss Kibler and Mrs. Pierson contributed to the program in several well selected numbers, well rendered. Miss Stair was most gracious in the repeated demands made upon her. Her repertoire is extremely large and her powers versatile, but such is the delicacy of her touch that she is particularly effective in such compositions as require extreme nicety—all of which bespeaks a remarkable technique. She has, too, a vast amount of reserve power as was evidenced in her rendition of the Chopin Scherzo. Miss Stair is as proficient at the organ as the piano, and charmed her hearers at a twilight recital at Trinity Episcopal church. As a song-writer, Miss Stair has achieved an enviable reputation in the musical world. She has many friends in Newark who have been delighted to meet her again, and only regret that her visit was so brief.

TIGHT TOWN.

Saloons, Stores and Stands Closed Sunday in Louisville.
Louisville, June 25.—Additional and what were considered by a majority of citizens unnecessarily heavy weights were piled on Louisville's "lid" Sunday as the result of a policy inaugurated by Magistrate Frank J. Hoffman. Magistrate Hoffman's interpretation of the Sunday closing laws led to the closing of cigar stands, soda fountains, fruit stands and even of butcher shops and groceries, which have heretofore kept open Sunday mornings for the benefit of citizens having no ice boxes. Half a dozen cigar stands, soda fountains and other business places in the central part of the city kept open with the object of inviting test arrests. No arrests were made during the day. Seven Members of the Order Passed Away During Year—A Large Attendance.

Newark Lodge, Olive Branch, Mt. Olive Encampment.

The services were in honor of the seven members who have passed away within the past year. At the Fifth Street Baptist church, the pastor, Rev. The services were largely attended at the church, and the following deceased members were honored: Thomas Keller, John Moser, George Jones, George Hermann, Mrs. Curtis Myers of Hanover, Mrs. John Moser, Mrs. Fitzwater and Mrs. Fulk.

LINGAFELTER CASE.

In May, 1904, more than two years ago, the Newark Savings Bank and the Homestead Building Association closed their doors and the indictment of the Lingafelter family followed.

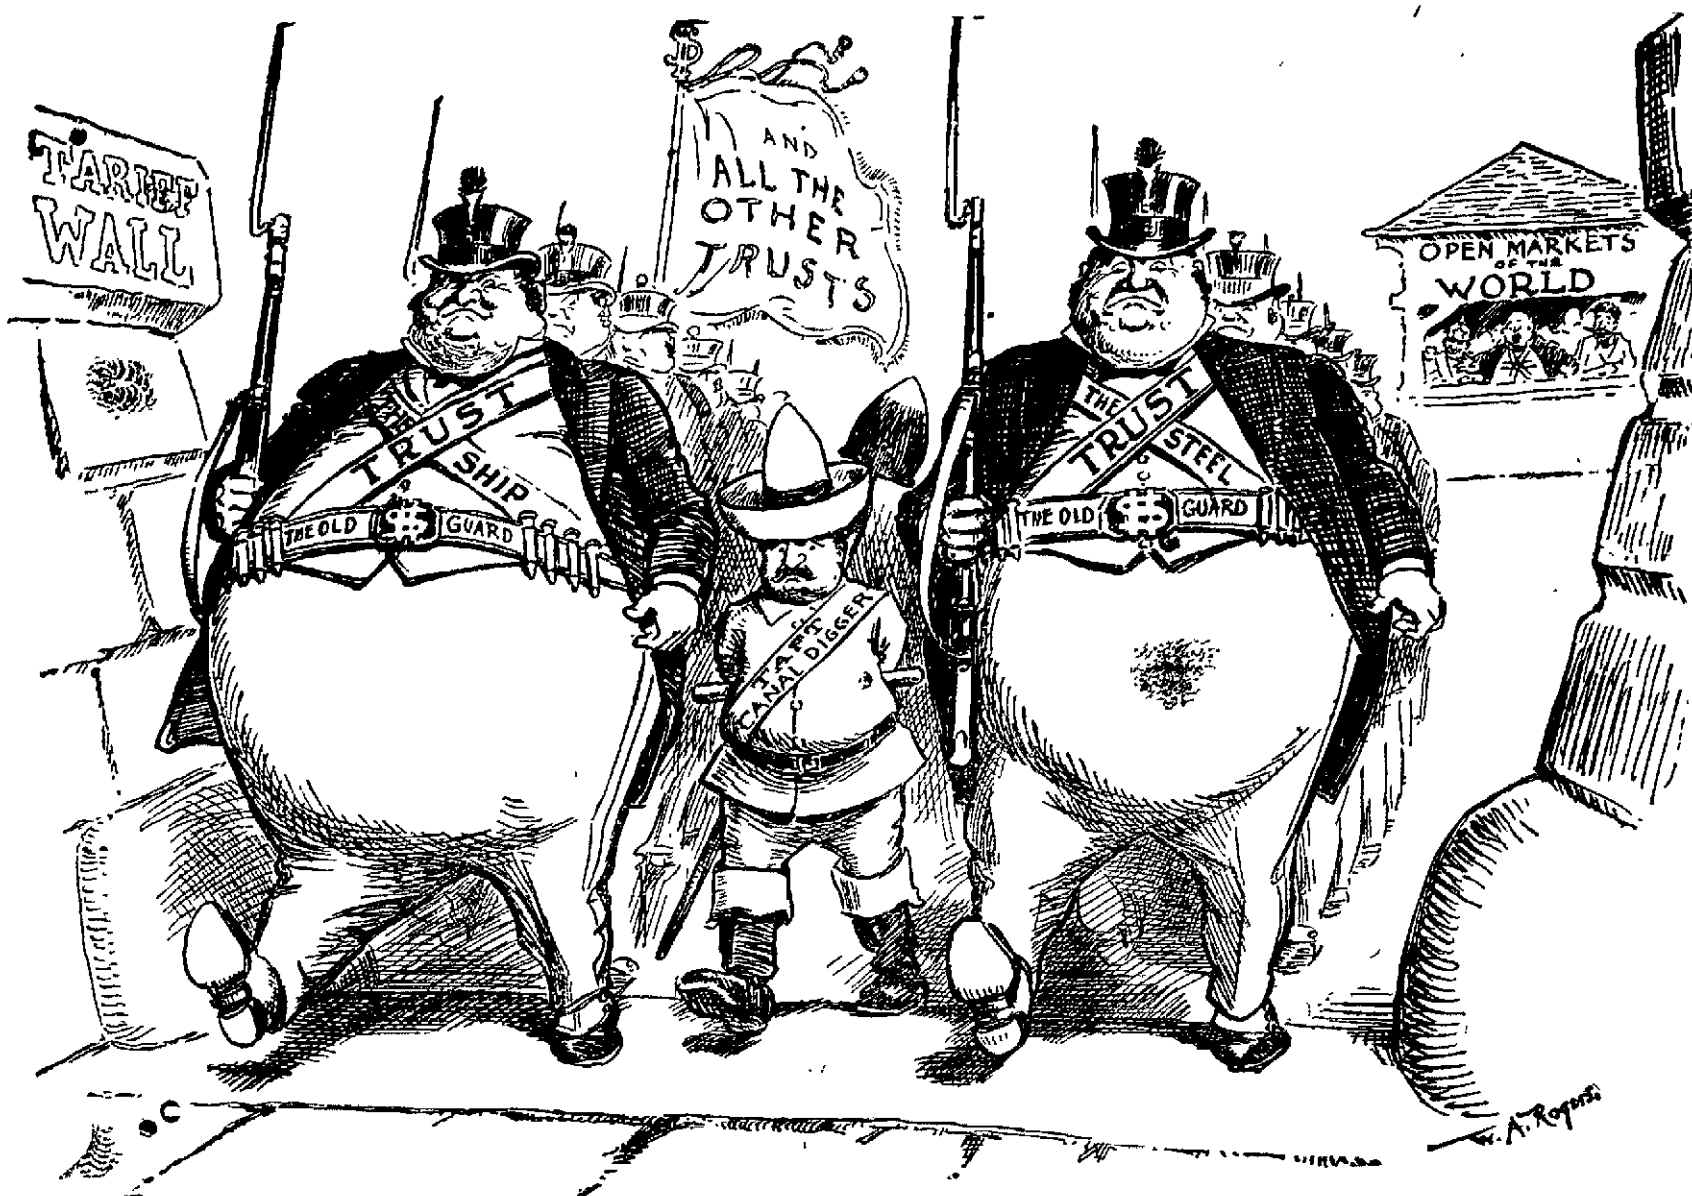

The father and son were once convicted at Mt. Vernon, but by carrying their cases to the Circuit court, secured new trials. Robert was tried and convicted the second time in Newark on another indictment, and was given an indefinite term in the Mansfield reformatory, his sentence in the first instance having been five years in the Ohio penitentiary. This case also was carried to the Circuit court which met on the 19th inst., and affirmed the lower court's decision, but the defense gave notice of appeal to the Supreme court and was given 45 days in which to secure permission to file the necessary papers. A new bond for $5,000 was given and the defendant was allowed to return home.

The second trial of the ex-cashier was called before Judge Eason of Wooster, Monday morning, the local judges of the Common Pleas court having been disqualified. The defense again asked for a continuance, and this was granted with the express understanding that the case will be tried on September 4, and the case against Mrs. Lingafelter, who is charged with forgery, will be heard about the same time.

Attorney J. A. Flory, speaking for the members of the Licking county bar, asked for a speedy trial of the case in order that the attorneys may proceed with other business before the court, the docket now being two years behind.

The defendant should be given ev-

GRANVILLE JAP TIRES OF MARRIED LIFE AND SUES FOR A DIVORCE

Toke Watanabe Says Girl Wanted Only His Fortune and Engages Lawyer to File Divorce Petition--Toke Says He Has Made Four Mistakes--Bride Disappears.

Granville, O., June 25.—The news reached here from Columbus that Toke Watanabe, the Japanese student who formerly attended Denison university, and who a few days ago married Miss Fay Clayton, the 13 year old daughter of Webb Clayton of Columbus, had already tired of his marriage and was seeking a divorce from his bride, created no surprise here. When the news of his marriage was first received it was predicted by those who were intimately acquainted with Toke that such would be the final outcome. During the past few months of Mr. Watanabe's residence in Granville, he had the reputation of being quite a masher, and the hearts of several young women were nearly broken over his marriage.

Columbus, June 25.—Charging that his wife, Mrs. Toke Watanabe, formerly Miss Fay Clayton, 15 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Webb Clayton, residing at Lafayette and Milton streets, conspired, with her mother, to marry him and thus secure his money, Toke Watanabe, a Japanese young man employed in the Kilbourne-Jacobs company, and at present residing at 86 East Gay street, will file a petition in the Common Pleas court, today, through his attorney, Frank Roth, asking for a divorce. Besides the charge of conspiracy which he will make against his young bride of one week, Watanabe will add another.

Miss Fay Clayton, aged 15, and the Jan were married one week ago Friday. Wednesday night the Jap deserted her because he had been informed by Louis Agota, a fellow countryman, that she had conspired against him. The girl, left upon her own resources, did not return home, but is missing and cannot be located. "I made four mistakes in my life," said Watanabe, the young husband, Saturday. "I made a mistake when I came to Columbus, after graduating from the Denison university. I made a mistake when I went to Olenyanga park. I made a mistake when I met the girl at the park that night. I made a mistake when I married her."

"I knew now that her mother and she conspired against me. She asked me to marry her several times. I refused her each time until finally she scared me into marrying her. She threatened to take poison. She threatened to run away. I married her to protect her and I now find that I was trapped. I will file the divorce proceedings in order to get out of the trap."

Watanabe, who is an heir to a fortune in his native land, went on to say that his friend and fellow countryman, Louis Agota, had come to him "like a man" and told him all. Agota boards at the home of the Claytons. He went to school at the Ohio State university for about a year and then went into business at Olenyanga park. During his stay at the Clayton house he learned to love the only daughter of the household and intended to marry her.

While he was in New York on business, his friend, Watanabe, married the pretty young girl and when Agota returned he was grieved beyond measure. It is probable that a decision in the case will be given in the fall term of court.

Water Must Be Filtered.
Columbus, June 25.—Secretary C. O. Probst has been advised of a decision rendered by the courts of Licking county which affords him and the members of the state board of health much encouragement in their fight for pure water for the various municipalities of the state.

Newark officials had bonded the city for the construction of a water works system, minus a filtration plant, and the board of health, through Attorney General Ellis, brought suit to enjoin the use of water from the plant for domestic purposes on the ground that it could not be pure and safe without first being filtered, and the court upholds this contention and grants a perpetual injunction against the use of the water for domestic purposes, and restricts its use entirely to fire and sprinkling purposes.

LAWYER

Sues His Three Sisters and Brother For His Advice Given in the Family Circle.

Detroit, Mich., June 25.—A most remarkable bill has been filed in a lawsuit by Henry Anderson, a prominent attorney of Traverse City, against his three sisters, Jennie, Margaret and Angeline, and his brother, William S. Anderson.

The brothers and sisters have lived all their lives as one family, until a very recent disagreement. Now the lawyer sues his sisters and brother for $450, of which $200 is claimed as attorney fees for legal advice and suggestions tendered them incidentally at various times in the past 25 years, when their affairs would come up for discussion in the family circle. He sues for food furnished for the common table by him during that time and adds a claim of $50 for writing the paper read by his brother at the old settlers' meeting a year ago. William Anderson is a leading undertaker, and it was supposed that he was the author of the address.

DEATH WORKS POLITICAL CHANGE

NEW PILOT AT HELM OF STATE
NEW CHART AND COMPASS TO BE USED.

President Roosevelt Said to Favor
Secretary Taft for Presidency.
Columbus Affairs.

Columbus, June 25.—Through the death of Governor John M. Pattison the state of Ohio passes through a political metamorphosis unlike any in the history of the commonwealth. It is the second vacancy in the office of governor to be caused by death, six other vacancies having arisen by resignation. This time "the course of human events" witnesses a complete revolution in political control resulting from the expressed choice of the people at the polls in a single election, for the people elected a Republican lieutenant governor at the same time they elected a Democratic governor.

Had the entire Democratic ticket, or only his running mate, been elected with him, Governor Pattison would have been succeeded by Lewis B. Houck as acting governor, a position he has tentatively occupied as the governor's secretary on account of the governor's illness. Such a change would have marked no deviation from the administrative policy initiated by

WILLIAM H. TAFT.

Governor Pattison, and political changes in contemplation would have followed in due course.

Now all this is arrested by the hand that laid low the fifth Democratic governor Ohio has had in half a century, almost on the very threshold of his administration. It is even likely that some acts of the Pattison regime will be undone under the Harris regime, especially in the reorganization of state institutions under way. It will naturally follow that there will be a complete change in the executive staff, for these are personal appointments of the executive.

Governor Harris refused to be drawn into any discussion of his policy and purpose before the funeral at Milford. Since the obsequies are over these questions are open for discussion and conjecture by the people and for disposal by the new chief magistrate.

During the incumbency of Governor Pattison, in addition to the official staff, consisting of Secretary Houck, Adjutant General O. H. Hughes and their assistants, the following appointments were made: W. L. Finley, state oil inspector; D. S. Creamer, state fire marshal; J. W. Johnson, supervisor of state printing; J. E. Taylor, trustee of Gallipolis hospital; trustees of hospital for criminal insane; commission for the Jamestown exposition; E. W. Crayton, member of board of managers of the state penitentiary; and a common pleas judge in the Van Wert district to fill a vacancy.

It is too early to say how many of these or which of these will undergo a change. The senate being Democratic, the confirming power will be antipodal to the appointing power, no matter whether the legislature were called into special session or whether Governor Harris waits until the next regular session in 1961 to submit his nominations as "recess appointments." It is intimated that Governor Harris may not disturb appointments already made, except in the executive office, and be content with the exercise of appointments in the many other places to be filled, but this is a problem the new administration must work out for itself.

It is practically certain that no special session of the legislature will be convened. There was some talk of urging on Governor Harris the appointment of a lieutenant governor, but this is rendered uncertain, especially as Attorney General Ellis and State Secretary Laylin both hold that to do so would break the line of succession provided by the state constitution, and that, on the contrary, there is no vacancy in the office of lieutenant governor. General Harris still holding that title and acting as governor ex officio though no longer serving in the chair of lieutenant governor, where Senator Williams, president ex officio of the senate, will preside ex officio.

A Washington dispatch says there is a ripple of interest in political circles there over the character of the coming campaign in Ohio, and incidental conjecture as to whether Secretary Taft will be invited by the Republicans to take part in the stump campaign. This is on account of the speech Secretary Taft made at Akron, in which he scored George B. Cox, and to that extent aided in the overthrow of Cox, and also on account of his tariff views, especially with reference to the Philippines. Secretary Taft was chairman of the Ohio Republican convention last year. His public speech was regarded as an intimation of the policy of the national administration. His Akron speech was along similar lines, except the broadness of local politics. Recent announcement was made that the president will not act on the matter of filling the vacancy on the supreme court bench until the next session of congress. This will give ample time to decide whether Secretary Taft shall give up his presidential ambitions and gratify another hope he long has cherished by taking a seat on the supreme bench. All this while, Taft is to remain in the cabinet, which will carry him beyond the campaign of 1960 as a cabinet officer. The same dispatch which tells of the interest in the matter felt at Washington says: "Some of the Ohio leaders are of the opinion that it would be poor politics not to ask the secretary to take part in the campaign."

In line with the foregoing another Washington dispatch contains a story of particular interest to Ohio people. It is, in effect, that President Roosevelt favors the nomination of Secretary Taft for president in 1960. A portion of the dispatch reads as follows: "President Roosevelt told callers at the White House that, in his opinion, William Jennings Bryan will be the Democratic nominee for president in 1960, and that the only man the Republicans can put up against him successfully is William H. Taft, the present secretary of war. The new tack of the president has stirred up intense interest in Washington. It had been expected that Mr. Taft would go on the supreme bench in the fall, when Justice Brown will retire, though this shift has never been more than tentatively decided upon. Mr. Taft has not said positively that he will take the proffer of the judicial place."

It was expected that there would be a change in the management of the state institution for feeble minded at the end of this month, as Dr. E. H. Rorick some time ago tendered his resignation as superintendent. At the time it was apparent that this institution would be reorganized politically, but the unexpected death of Governor Pattison put a new phase on the matter, or rather maintains the status quo. At the meeting of the trustees this week no action was taken on Dr. Rorick's resignation, nor was there anything done toward choosing a successor. No candidates for the place were even talked of. It is possible that Dr. Rorick will continue in his present position.

Until reports are received at the state auditor's office from all the counties it will be impossible to know just how many saloons in Ohio went out of business on account of the Alkin tax. The result here in Franklin county and the capital is hardly a criterion, yet the falling off of saloons was quite heavy, a total of 139 in the city and eight in the county outside of Columbus having succumbed. Out of those who gave notice that they would renew their licenses only one in the county and 15 in the city failed to do so. The tax for the first six months of the year was paid for 45 saloons in the county outside of Columbus and for 522 saloons in the city. The amount collected was approximately $284,500, which is somewhat more than the total collection will be, as all rebates arising from the closing of saloons will come out of that amount. After 73 days, which is the time covered by the $200 of the tax which the law says can not be rebated, it is estimated that a number of the saloons will go out of business and more will follow at the end of the first six months.

Many, if not all, paid the tax under protest, and reports show that this plan was followed pretty generally throughout the state, in the hope that the suit begun in Cincinnati to test the Alkin tax may be sustained in the courts, or that some of the various cities which may be attempted in other cities will result in defeat of the law. There was some talk of raising a question here by a technical violation of the law.

Representative Werts is not permitting himself to be overlooked even if he did not secure the Democratic nomination for congress in the Seventeenth district. He is a candidate on a ticket where "one is a majority and two unanimous" in the code hymeneal. Announcement is made that he will join the benedict in July, the bride to be Miss Bessie Johnson of Wooster, daughter of the late Judge Isaac Johnson. He will be the first of the bachelors of the present legislature to marry, unless Senator Schmidt of Cleveland beats him in the fulfillment of a pledge he is said to have made to marry in the event of his election to the senate.

The state board of health, in its quarterly session at Canton, decided to ask the next state legislature to have a health officer appointed in every county in Ohio. The measure is for the benefit of the rural districts under existing conditions, the township trustees constitute the board of health of the various townships. Complaint is made that this system is unsatisfactory. The county health officer, if the bill goes through, will be chief authority in the county, but will act in co-operation with city officers.

SMITH DROWNS IN BUCKEYE LAKE

HIS BOAT AT THAT TIME WAS TIED TO A TREE ON BANK OF MARSH.

Companion Rescued in Nick of Time
By Hall Miller—Sunday Morning
Accident.

Though his boat was tied to a small tree at the bank along Cranberry marsh, at Buckeye Lake, early Sunday morning, George Smith, of Columbus, fell out and was drowned. His companion, Joseph Stevens, also of Columbus, was saved by Hall Miller.

Smith, who is the 23 year old son of J. W. Smith, of Snyder street, Columbus, left the city Saturday evening in a motor car Saturday evening with Mr. Stevens, an employee of the Snyder street lumber yard, to fish at Buckeye Lake. Smith was an employee of the Columbus Iron and Steel company. After reaching the lake the men secured a boat and went to Cranberry marsh to fish. About 1 o'clock in the morning cries for help were heard and Hall Miller, engineer of the Snyder Planing Mill, Columbus, and a man called Jim, who were fishing nearby, hurried to the scene. They found the boat filled with water and Stevens clinging to it with one hand, was quickly rescued, but Smith had sunk in about eight feet of water.

Speaking of the accident afterward to an Advocate man, Mr. Stevens said that the "boat had just sunk under them" and that Smith had grabbed him (Stevens) about the neck and had almost pulled him under the water. Just before help arrived Smith loosened his hold and sank to his death.

Mr. Stevens said he was unable to explain the accident but he thought the boat had sprung a leak. He admitted that the two men had some liquor with them.

Word was quickly sent to the Park and George Norris and George Ray hastened to the marsh where with a drag they soon recovered the body and carried it to shore. Mr. Norris said that the body was taken back to the Park in the boat which had been overturned. He said it was not leaked, and that the accident was caused by Smith falling from the boat.

MISS GRACE MONROE AND HER LOVER

Father Kidnaps Girl Who is Then
Spiritd Away by Young Man
Near Chicago.

Chicago, June 25.—Miss Grace Monroe, whose father, the pastor of the Chicago Lawn Congregational church, forcibly took her to Centralia, Ill., last week in an attempt to break up a romantic infatuation, as back in this city feeling like a much kidnapped young woman. Her return was the result of a second and even more thrilling kidnapping, carried out by her affianced husband, William H. Leiferman, the 23 year old Chicago Lawn printer, to whom the girl's parents object.

The recapture of the girl was effected by her fiancé and a friend Saturday night on a farm seven miles from Centralia, where her father had sequestered her. After two days of reconnoitering, signaling and secret communication, Leiferman invaded the farm house at midnight and sought out his sweetheart.

A quarrel with the father and mother was followed by a hand to hand encounter, in the midst of which the young man bundled the girl into a buggy and drove madly back to the railway station, where a train was taken for Chicago.

While reports were being spread that the father was again lurking in the vicinity planning another kidnapping, Miss Monroe passed Sunday at the residence of the Leiferman family. The prospective groom made a strenuous attempt to get a marriage license during the day, but it did not succeed. Unless the girl is kidnapped again to try to be married before night.

The love affair was a kidnapping has become a local sensation in Chicago. Leiferman was charged Saturday with the kidnapping and was held in the city jail.

210 MILE TRIP IN AN AUTOMOBILE

FROM ANDERSON, IND., TO NEWARK ON SATURDAY, TAKEN BY S. L. BEENEY.

Road Between Newark and Columbus Worst of the Entire Trip Says Professor Beeneey.

Knowing that it will be of interest to the readers of the Advocate, I take pleasure in giving a brief account of a 210 mile trip across the country from Anderson, Ind., to Newark, O., in a touring car, Saturday, June 23, accompanied by Warren H. Edwards and Henry Hansberger.

We left Anderson, 36 miles northeast of Indianapolis, at 5 a. m. Everything had been made ready for the initial trip of a new Lambert, and we looked forward with pleasure to the incidents of such a trip. In starting out our aim was to reach the National road at a point that would not cause a deviation from the general direction homeward. This we did by steering through New Castle to Richmond, a distance of 53 miles. If the roads in this part of the Hoosier state may be considered a fair sample of the entire state, they are simply excellent. Here we are flitting by numerous prosperous villages, not noticed on our map, neither have we time to stop to make inquiry as to name. Some of the villages have erected guide boards giving name of village, distance from and to the principal cities, the same as along the most of steam roads. Let us have proper guides put up in Licking county, and see that they stay up. Some years ago such guides were seen at the most of the prominent cross roads throughout Ohio, but now they seem to have disappeared almost entirely.

Now we leave Richmond for Dayton, a distance of 45 miles, over the National road, passing through the beautiful city of Eaton, the home of our present governor. At 10:25 we were skirting the Soldiers' Home at Dayton. The Dayton and Western traction line runs along the National road to Richmond.

Leaving Dayton at 11:30 for Springfield, over the Dayton and Springfield pike, a most beautiful run of 24 miles was made. This is a sample of the kind of roads that Ohio should have all over the state. As our car stopped at county seats only, a run of 43 miles from Springfield brought us to Columbus, at 3:30 p. m. After a visit of about two hours we started out over the National road for Hebron—National road, did I say? This name for this part of the nation's highway is now a misnomer, for it is surely a disgrace to a civilized community, and would make the face of our fathers blush with shame. This is especially true of the part in Franklin and Licking counties. East of Columbus for several miles it is simply honeycombed with deep chuck-holes which after such rains as we have had this June, hold water for many days and make the heart of the tourist sad indeed.

At 5:30 p. m. we were in Newark, where the first man we met was Dr. O. P. Sook, to whom the writer related the above true account of our trip but the doctor discredited the part which relates to the 210 auto ride, and says that the motor car must have been shipped to Hebron and that we rode in from there. But the mud we carried into Newark came from beyond Etna.

All along the route for over 200 miles, from an agricultural point of view there is plainly visible the stamp of prosperity. Waving fields of golden grain are now ready for the harvest, and in a few places the work had already commenced. The corn crop is in fine condition, and a good stand is seen everywhere, although the crop is backward in many places for the time of year. Cherry trees everywhere are loaded with fruit. The dilapidated farmer boy is seen using his spare moments in picking raspberries of which there seems to be an abundance. But I must stop lest my letter reaches the S. L. BEENEY.

ODD FELLOWS MEMORIAL DAY

AFTER CHURCH SERVICES THE GRAVES IN MAPLE GROVE WERE DECORATED.

Newark Members Join With Their Granville Brothers in Remembering the Dead.

Granville, O., June 25.—Beautiful and solemnly impressive memorial services were held by Myrtle Lodge of Odd Fellows of this place at the Presbyterian church on Sunday afternoon in memory of the brothers who have answered to the last roll call in the great beyond. The day was delightfully cool, with bright skies and large numbers of Odd Fellows turned out. Twenty-six members of Kirk lodge, No. 587, arrived here early in the afternoon, coming over on the electric road. Canton Olive, No. 90, of Newark, arrived on the 2:30 o'clock car. The Cantons was represented by a large number of its members and was under command of Captain O. F. Ballinger. All the visitors, upon their arrival, were welcomed by the reception committee and escorted to Odd Fellows Hall, from which place the Odd Fellows and Daughters of Rebekah marched to the Presbyterian church where they took the seats that had been reserved for them.

The service which was presided over by Brother J. B. Smith, was opened by the singing of a beautiful number by the special choir, after which Rev. Mr. Eason offered prayer, followed by music by the choir.

The sermon was then delivered by Rev. Mr. Eason, pastor of the Methodist church, and was an eloquent and feeling eulogy on those in whose memory the services were held, and of the growing love of man for man in this world of ours.

At the conclusion of the services at the church the Odd Fellows headed by Canton Olive, Patriarchs Militant of Newark, marched to the beautiful Maple Grove cemetery, under command of B. I. Jones, who acted as chief marshal.

Upon arriving at the cemetery the Odd Fellows gathered about the grave of Martin Slought, the only member of the lodge who died during the past year, and is buried in Maple Grove, although there is one other member of the lodge who died during this time, but who sleeps in the cemetery at Alexandria. Here the Odd Fellows' Memorial, ritualistic ceremony, which is beautiful and solemn was conducted by Brother Henry Welsh and John DeBow, hundreds bowing in reverence during the exercises.

Beautiful bouquets had been placed on the grave, mementos of love and remembrance from those who live after, and as an evidence that while they sleep the sleep that knows no awakening until resurrection morn, the Odd Fellows, who sleep in Maple Grove will not be forgotten by the brothers who will some day be transformed from the life Elysian to the life Eternal. After the ceremony the procession then reformed and marched back to Odd Fellows' Hall.

Following are the names of deceased Odd Fellows who are sleeping in Maple Grove cemetery, the old cemetery, and the Welsh Hills cemetery, who were former members of Myrtle Lodge:

Maple Grove cemetery—Harry A. Church, Asa Brown, E. E. Cullen, Wesley Belt, Asa Parker, Nelson Stinnett, C. Thomas, E. Thomas, Thomas Wood, W. A. Montoya, Anna Kimball, D. of R., David Evans, Thomas Reese, Richard Reese, George Parsons, Martin Slough.

Old cemetery—Charles Blanchard, Hugh Blanchard, Thomas Blanchard, Enos Rose, S. N. Sweet.

Welsh Hills cemetery—Robert Lloyd, Elias Hughes, John Williams, Hiram Jones and Evan Evans.

Among those from a distance who were present and took part in the exercises, was Mr. J. H. Chapman, of Shirley Lodge No. 272, of Shirley, Va. He was accompanied by his wife who is an enthusiastic Rebekah. Dr. G. M. Brown of Kansas Lodge, No. 289, of Burr Oak, Kansas, was also present.

REV. T. W. LOCK GIVES THE ADDRESS

Memorial Services Held By Durban Lodge at Nashport Sunday. Lodges Represented.

Durban Lodge, No. 457, I. O. O. F., of Nashport, attended annual memorial services Sunday afternoon at the M. E. church at Nashport, where the Rev. T. W. Locke of Newark, delivered an elegant sermon to the members. Rev. Mr. Locke is himself an Odd Fellow and was fitted to preach as is best understood by the lodgemen.

The one member lost by death during the past year from this lodge was George Fouch. A number of visitors were present at the services Sunday, representing Odd Fellows lodges in Zanesville, Painesville, Hanover, Perrinton, Gratiot and Stirling.

HENRY CARR DIES IN NEW JERSEY

REMAINS WILL BE BROUGHT TO GRANVILLE FOR BURIAL TUESDAY.

An Incident of Fifty Years Ago At Denison Commencement is Here Recalled.

Granville, June 25.—The sad news of the death of Henry Carr, which occurred at his home in Elizabeth, N. J., on Saturday June 23, was received here with deep regret, especially by the older citizens, who knew and loved him so well. The remains will arrive here on Tuesday morning it is expected, about 11:30 o'clock accompanied by the friends and family. The body will immediately be taken to Maple Grove cemetery, where the funeral services will be held late Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Carr was born in Akron, O., in 1838, but his boyhood days were spent in Granville, where he graduated from Denison University in 1860. For many years he lived in "the old Chandler place," which was built by Mr. Carr's father. For many years, however, he has resided in Elizabeth, N. J., respected and honored by all who know him.

Although so long absent from the home of his youth, Mr. Carr's love for Granville was of that deep, true, abiding quality that time never destroyed. During the Centennial celebration of the settlement of Granville, held last September, Mr. Carr came all the way from Elizabeth New Jersey to assist in the celebration, and was one of the most conspicuous figures at the celebration.

Fifty years previous to Granville's centennial, at the semi-centennial celebration of the Granville Presbyterian church, Henry Carr sat in the gallery with his boy chum, G. G. Walker. At the conclusion of the exercises, Elias Gilman, Esq., oldest member of the church, made a motion that the church meet again fifty years from that date. The motion was seconded by the youngest member, a son of the late Rev. Jacob Little, presiding pastor. Mr. Carr leaned over and whispered to his chum, "We'll be there."

On Tuesday morning of the centennial week, as the veterans honoring "Patriotic Day," were marching towards the old cemetery, bystanders witnessed an affectionate sight—two gray-haired men, locked in each other's embrace and sobbing out the broken greetings they had no words to utter. These men were Henry Carr of Elizabeth, N. J., and G. G. Walker of New Orleans, La. After fifty years they had met again.

Mr. Carr was twice married. He is survived by his second wife and two sons.

KILLS HIS FRIEND ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

LAD ACCIDENTALLY SHOOTS HIS COMPANION IN THE MOUTH, CAUSING DEATH.

Then Becomes Crazy With Grief and Attempts to Take His Own Life. But Fails.

Lancaster, June 25.—William Miller, aged 16, accidentally shot and killed at Horn's Hill, four miles south of Lancaster, Sunday, by his lifelong friend, Carl Christengate.

The young men had been shooting at a mark with a rifle, and Christengate was in the act of firing when Miller told him not to do so, as a bug was passing. He threw the gun over his shoulder, the muzzle being within a few inches of Miller's mouth when the gun exploded, tearing Miller's face badly.

When Christengate realized what had happened he became insane with grief and attempted to kill himself, but was prevented from doing so by the other members of the crowd.

J. M. Morrison, marshal of the town of Huttig, Ark., was shot and killed by Pans Howard, a negro, whom Morrison was endeavoring to arrest on a charge of murder. The woman was captured by a posse.
